Creative Ballet
Beginning at 3 years old, this class will introduce students to ballet principles in a lively environment. Children will playfully engage with new dance skills and movement concepts each week using stories, music, circle dances and special props, such as scarves and ribbon wands. The fun and positive instructor encourages dancers to move in ways shown by research to enhance brain development while progressively learning ballet skills. Social skills and self-esteem are also developed as children make new friends and enjoy their peers through partner and group dancing.

Pre-Ballet/Tap
Dancers age 4 and up can experience both ballet and tap in this introductory class. Each class will include lessons and playful activities in both genres, and dancers will explore movement concepts such as speed, rhythm and energy. The instructor will teach steps in combination to create fun, light-hearted choreography in ballet and tap, and students will create their own movement through stories and games. Social skills and self-esteem are also developed as dancers enjoy partner and group dancing and demonstrate responsibility for their dance shoes.
